1. Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

As noted in the last office action, claim 15 seems to conflict with claim 13 from which it depends insofar as claim 13 defines that the pressure source is the gas with the sealant in the container whereas claim 15 defines that the pressure source is a gas in a separate pressure bottle. In other words, these are originally described as alternative in the specification – this presentation of conflicting requirements for the pressure source therefore renders the scope of claim 15 indefinite and confusing. To avoid this rejection, I would propose amending claim 15 to depend from claim 12 (rather than claim 13 – note also that claims 13 and 15 are analogous to original claims 2 and 4, there being no original disclosure to combine these two features in a single embodiment).

2. Claims 1-14 and 16-22 are allowed and claim 15 would be allowed if amended to overcome the above noted rejection.

These claims are allowable for the reasons advanced by applicant in the remarks accompanying the 5-5-2004 response (as well as the examiner's comments in the prior office action).

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
